

W. E. LOVE & ASSOCIATES' JOHN LOVE NAMED TO DUKE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL & HEALTH CENTER NATIONAL BOARD OF ADVISORS

Love Will Serve On Duke Children's National Board of Advisors Executive Committee

DURHAM, N.C. – November 8, 2011—Duke Children's Hospital & Health Center, a nationally-ranked pediatric academic medical center, announced today the addition of John H. Love of Burlington, N.C., to the Duke Children's National Board of Advisors Executive Committee. Love joins a prestigious list of business leaders from the Triangle community and across the nation, and will serve on the board effective November 3, 2011.

Duke Children's National Board of Advisors members give their time and resources to Duke Children's, ensuring its placement among the top pediatric programs in the United States. Love attended Duke Children's National Board of Advisors quarterly board meeting on November 3, 2011 in Durham, N.C. The meeting coincided with the 2011 Duke Children's Holiday and All-Occasion Card Program kick-off.

Prior to accepting a position on Duke Children's National Board of Advisors Executive Committee, Love and his father, W. E. Love, Jr., have supported Duke Children's for more than 28 years through their participation in the Duke Children's Classic. Most recently, Love demonstrated his dedication to Duke Children's by hosting two birthday fundraisers in 2011, asking guests to make donations to Duke Children's in lieu of gifts, where donations totaled more than $37,000.

“John's demonstrated leadership and energetic enthusiasm for Duke Children's will be an invaluable addition to the National Board of Advisors Executive Committee,” said Susan Glenn, executive director, Duke Children's Hospital Office of Development. “We are grateful for strong leaders like John, who are the foundation of our board.”

Love is president and chief executive officer of W. E. Love & Associates, Inc. (WEL) C.M.G.A., one of the nation's largest privately owned transportation managing general agents, and is
